NOW HE'S SORRY

President Roosevelt is reported as saying: "If I could have foreseen how things were going to frame up I would never have made that election night pledge, and I would never have reiterated it three months ago." The attitude of congress towards the executive and his legislative program has made the president bitter enough. There has never been a president's message so discourteously received as was the one sent to congress. In the house it was ignored entirely. In the senate, as soon as a message from the president was announced the senators yawned and moved that it be laid over for a day. This was done and the senate adjourned without even a polite inquiry as to what the message was about.

NOT THE "UNKISSED" NOW

Gladstone Dowie is sick at heart and apparently disgusted with everything in general, for he is no longer the "unkissed." For the first time in his life the son-of-the-late-overseer of the Christian church was initiated into the mysteries of osculation by Miss Sybil Peterson, whom he was representing in court in an action to recover a debt. Gladstone has repeatedly declared that he would never permit a woman to press her lips to his. He was determined to go through life unkissed. He was boastful about it, but alas, when the jury decided that Miss Peterson was entitled to $60 for services as a domestic in a Muskegon home she threw her arms around him, murmuring "you dear man" and planted a big kiss square on his lips, and now Dowie is angry and declares he will never get within reach of a woman again, but he is no longer the "unkissed."

Plans recently adopted by the board of regents, of the Cornvallis Agricultural College, provide for a course in domestic science and arts that will be the equal of that given in any institution west of the Mississippi. A whole floor of a new building, 73 by 120, erection of which is to begin at once, will be devoted to domestic arts, including dressmaking, millinery, and all other arts pertaining to the home life of woman. Waldo Hall, the college home of the girls, will be the home of the dean of domestic science, and will be used as a training school in cookery, home decoration, home nursing and other features of the course. The dean of the department will be Miss Julia Greer, now head of the domestic science department in Pratt Institute, Brooklyn.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina has been suggested as chairman of the Democratic national committee. He will not be selected if Bryan is the candidate because Bryan recognizes that Simmons is not one of his enthusiastic supporters and he will probably select some of his personal friends to manage his campaign.

MILLS ADDITION LOTS

are Advancing in Value

When blocks in Mills Addition were offered at bargain prices a number of shrewd investors bought; since that time values have increased materially.

These Lots are Bargain Buys

at present prices, and there is every reason to anticipate an advance in prices. Remember these lots are FIFTY feet in width and ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY FEET deep—more than double the area of most town lots offered to investors.
